most or all of the financial risk for their respective health plans; and

Whereas, as self-funding of health plans has grown, states have lost regulatory oversight of this growing portion of the health insurance market; and

Whereas, the federal government has been slow to enact meaningful patient protections such as mechanisms for the recovery of benefits due plan participants, recovery of compensatory damages from the fiduciary caused by its failure to pay benefits due under the plan, enforcement of the plan-participant's rights under the terms of the plan, assurance of timely payment, and clarification of the plan-participant's rights to future benefits under the terms of the plan; and

Whereas, in the absence of federal patient protections, state-level action is needed: Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the senate, the house of delegates concurring. That the Congress of the United States be urged to either enact meaningful patient protections at the federal level with respect to employer self-funded plans or, in the absence of such federal action, amend the Employment Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) of 1974 to grant authority to all individual states to monitor and regulate self-funded, employer-based health plans; and, be it

Resolved further, That the Clerk of the Senate transmit copies of this resolution to the Speaker of the United States of House Representatives, the President of the United States Senate, the President of the United States, the Secretary of the United States, the Secretary of the United States Department of Labor, the Congressional Delegation of Virginia, and to the presiding officer of each house of each state's legislative body so that they may be apprised of the sense of the General Assembly of Virginia in this matter.

POM-118. A resolution adopted by the House of the Legislature of the State of Michigan relative to "Know Your Customer" banking regulations and policies; to the Committee on Banking, Housing, and Urban Affairs.

House Resolution No. 30

Whereas, The Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation (FDIC), the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, and the Office of Thrift Supervision have been considering a proposed rule known as the "Know Your Customer" regulation. Although currently withdrawn from formal consideration through the federal regulatory process, this proposed measure would require banks and savings institutions to develop and enforce programs to monitor banking transactions to identify those that may be connected to certain illegal activities; and Whereas, The "Know Your Customer" con-

Whereas, The "Know Your Customer" concept is a response to concerns over activities such as money laundering, drug trafficking, tax evasions, and fraud. The regulation places an enormous burden of responsibility on banks, while ignoring the fact that provisions already exist to help deal with suspicious banking activities; and

Whereas, In addition to the proposed rule, which prompted overwhelming objections during the public comment period, federal banking officials already require banks to have "Know Your Customer" guidelines and procedures in place to identify suspicious activities. The Federal Reserve Bank's Secrecy Act compliance manual specifies this policy and directs bank examiners to look for compliance with this practice; and

Whereas, The "Know Your Customer" concept represents a serious threat to the privacy of law-abiding citizens. Giving the banks the duty of monitoring all banking transactions—without probable cause and appropriate search warrants—is a clear threat and likely violation of the Fourth Amendment, which states, in part, the right of the people to be secure in their papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures. The "Know Your Customer" concept ignores constitutional protections of personal privacy; and

Whereas, There is legislation currently pending in Congress to prohibit "Know Your Customer" transaction screening policies. This type of legislation, to protect personal privacy under the Fourth Amendment, is most appropriate. Now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the House of Representatives, That without hindering the pursuit of money laundering, drug trafficking, tax evasion, and fraud, we oppose "Know Your Customer" banking regulations and policies and memorialize the Congress of the United States to enact legislation to prohibit banking transaction screening practices that threaten personal privacy: and be it further

Resolved, That copies of this resolution be transmitted to the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, the Office of the Comptroller of the Currency, the Office of Thrift Supervision, the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, and the members of the Michigan congressional delegation.

Adopted by the House of Representatives, April 29, 1999.
